RANAWAY; HOMEINCOALTRAIN

SMALL BOYS PLANNED TO BEAT THEIR WAY TO ST. LOUIS.

Two of Them Return, Grimy but Content -Third Is Ill in New Jersey-Got as Far as Easton, Where They Heard That Police Had Been Asked to Find Them.

Willie Reynolds of 167 West 129th street, and Tommie Campbell of 2152 Fifth avenue, started for St. Louis last week, sending word back to their mothers by postal card to take their departure philosophically. They got back yesterday.

Johnnie Smith of 533 West 156th street.

who went along, hasn't come back yet He's got pleuro-pneumonia at his grandmother's home in Washington, N. J. The Reynolds and Campbell boys, each of

The Reynolds and Campbell boys, each of whom is 14, rode in from Easton, Pa., hidden in a loaded Lackawanna coal car. They were a sight when they got home.

Willie Reynolds had just emerged from the bath when a Sun reporter called last night to hear his story. This is the way Willie told it, while surrounded by a circle of admiring churs.

Willie told it, while surrounded by a circle of admiring chums:

"Tommie Campbell and Johnnie Smith they'd run away lots of times, and when Johnnie said what a big show there was at St. Louis, me an' Tommie thought it 'ud be bully to go out there. We got all the clothes and money we could find.

"We went over to Fort Lee and took a trolley to Paterson. Then we hopped into a box car."

we went over to for lee and the trolley to Paterson. Then we hopped into a box car."

Willie said that they didn't know where the box car was going, but supposed that all trains went to St. Louis. They enjoyed the trip hugely until night came, and Johnnie Smith began to shiver.

"Gee, but Johnnie certainly did shiver." continued Willie. "He kep' us awake all night. The next day we got to Boonton and I said we'd better stop. Tommie wanted to keep right on, but Johnnie wuz beginnin' to feel sick an' I didn't have to coax him much. He got worse, and then he found out it wuz only forty miles to Washington where his grandmother lived, an' he said he was goin' there.

"Johnnie had most of the money, and we didn't think we'd better go to the big show with only a dollar'n a half, but we met a tramp and he told us we were goin' the wrong way. Then he put us in another box car an' took our satchels away from us."

Willie said they rode all day and all night

Willie said they rode all day and all night and when they woke up they were crossing a big river. On the other side the tramp stopped in some railroad yards and just then a brakeman chased them out. He told them they were in Easton.

"He told us we looked like a couple of kids the New York perlice wanted, and said we'd better come into the caboose and rest. I knew he just wanted to get us and send us home, but we were wise to him. We hung around the yards until a big gang of tramps scared us, an' then we jumped right on a coal train and come home. We were glad to get here, too."

NORTH GERMAN LLOYD TAXES Reduced by the New Jersey State Board

The New Jersey State Board of Taxation gave a hearing at the City Hall in Hoboken yesterday on the appeal of the North German Lloyd Steamship Company from the assessed valuation of $2,002,000. levied by the local Board of Assessors on its holdings in that city. The Hoboken Board of Appeals cut the assessment to $1,002,000 last year, but the Common Council set aside the reduction and confirmed the valuations at the original figure.

The Commissioners reduced the assessment to $1,750,000.
